Many selective private schools in America require prospective students to take the Independent School Entrance Exam (ISEE). It's a test designed to do two things-measure a student's ability to learn, and to see how much knowledge they've acquired already. It's a three hour test, and it may only be taken once every six months. The test does require the writing of an essay, but the essay is not graded or scored; it's only sent to prospective schools.
